Washington Sends I'm Alone Note To Ottawa
Claim Made Schooner
I'm Alone, Sent Down,
Was Owned in the U.S.

Note on Sinking of Rum Vessel in Gulf of Mexico Two Years Ago Sent From Washington in Reply to Argument of Ottawa Shelling Was Not Justified

Canadian Press
Washington, July 9.—The United States government, in a formal reply to Canada's contentions in the celebrated I'm Alone case, sought today to prove the rum-running schooner was United States-owned. The case is under arbitration between the two governments.

The I'm Alone, of Canadian registry (Lunenburg, N.S.), was sunk by a U.S. coastguard vessel in the Gulf of Mexico in March, 1929, after a 200-mile chase. Canada several months ago submitted its contentions to prove the sinking of the vessel unjustified. The United States reply was designed to answer Canada's claims.

PURSUIT QUESTION
In replying to Canada's contentions, George Wharton Pepper, United States agent in the arbitration, claimed the theory of "hot pursuit" existed in the sinking. "This had been questioned by Canada since the I'm Alone was sunk by another vessel than that which first hailed it off the Louisiana coast."

The United States answer also claimed the sinking of the vessel was justified since it had refused to stop when hailed.

INFLUENCE IS EXERTED OVER WIDE RANGE

Governments Recognize Powerful Trade Groups, Paint Convention Told

Delegates Learn Scope of Organized Activities of National Association

The importance and ramifications of the influence which trade organizations exert, in the progress of North American industry, was the principal subject of the address given this morning before the second day's session of the tenth annual convention of the western zone of the National Paint, Oil and Varnish Association of the United States, in progress at the Empress Hotel.

George V. Morgan, general manager of the national association, described the development of that body since it was organized forty-four years ago in New England. He was proud that President Hoover of the United States had named the association as one of the five leading trade groups of North America. The organization was active in preventing misbranding and other bad trade practices, and much success had resulted from skillful publicity, such as the slogan "Save the Surface."

The organization stressed development of friendship and confidence among members, who resented the improvement in business. Mr. Morgan likened the association's legislative committee to a fire department, ready to serve when trouble threatened from changes in tariff rates, customs tariffs, or proposals to enact restrictive legislation.

He urged the paint manufacturers of the coast to the more use of the facilities of this national association, which were of notably wide range. Discussing the policy of economy recently initiated, Mr. Morgan said no reduction was being made in the experimental laboratory, the chief change being in the national advertising policy, which was considered to have attained its purpose after being maintained for ten years. The annual cost of operating the association had been reduced by $200,000.

Mr. Morgan remarked that the "clean-up and paint-up" campaign had become an important factor in the unemployed relief effort sponsored last spring by President Hoover. He closed with advice that members daily read (Concluded on Page 2)

MORATORIUM IS WELCOME AS BREATH

Five Years Would Be Better, Says Sir John Courtis, Former Lord Mayor of Cardiff

Gas and Pulverized Coal May Assist Wales in Recovering From Coal Slump

"Five years would be better than one; as it is, it will merely give us breathing space," said Sir John Courtis, former Lord Mayor of Cardiff, South Wales, in discussing the Hoover war debt moratorium yesterday evening, following his arrival from the Hawaiian Islands by the Empress of Canada. "But the respite will be welcome," he added, "and it may lead to an extension of the moratorium to enable the world to get back upon its feet."

The staggering debt load which world nations are carrying is chiefly responsible for the depression to-day," Sir John said. "We have some vast problems to solve and I fear it will be a long time before we are out of the morass."

Sir John is a stockbroker by profession and for the last decade has been in London as a member of the London Stock Exchange. He is closely identified with the great coal interests of South Wales.

WHEAT CROP IS ESTIMATED

Pool Statistician Tells M.P.'s Canada's Total Less Than 250,000,000 Bushels

Ottawa, July 9.—Andrew Cairns, statistician of the Wheat Pool, gave from 225,000,000 to 250,000,000 bushels as an "optimistic" estimate of the wheat crop for all Canada this year, when he appeared before the agricultural committee of the Commons to-day. Last year the estimate had been 274,000,000, with about 355,000,000 realized.

MACDONALD, INDISPOSED, TAKES REST

London, July 9.—Premier Ramsay MacDonald, feeling better than he did yesterday, when he suffered an attack of nervous indigestion, left this afternoon for his country place at Chequers, to remain there until Saturday.

Saturday evening he will come back for the peace demonstration in Albert Hall.

M.P.'S TOLD WORLD WHEAT SURPLUS 200,000,000 BUSHEL

Ottawa, July 9.—The present outlook is that on the first of August, 1,000,000,000 bushels of wheat will be available for world requirements, according to a statement made by James Richardson of Winnipeg to the Commons committee on agriculture this forenoon. Those requirements are estimated at 800,000,000 bushels, thus leaving a prospective surplus of 200,000,000 bushels.

Mr. Richardson made it clear he in-

Definite Scheme To Beautify City And Give Relief

Fred B. Pemberton Suggests Improvements of Permanent Character as Best Means of Aiding Unemployed; Outlines Projects That Could be Undertaken at Once to Provide Labor

Some excellent suggestions for relief work that might be undertaken to assist the unemployed under the city's beautification scheme were advanced to-day by Fred B. Pemberton on being approached for his views.

"I am of the opinion that some definite scheme should be adopted leading to the beautification of the city," said Mr. Pemberton.

"There is plenty of necessary work that would greatly improve the appearance of our beautiful city and any scheme followed should be well thought out and rigidly adhered to with the object of effecting improvements of a permanent character and at the same time offering the best measure of relief to the unemployed in this period of stress."

"We want to avoid any suggestion of a dole. This, I am sure, is not wanted by those in need of relief. What is wanted is work and with a comprehensive scheme in hand I feel that a responsive chord will be struck in a plan of co-operative effort."

"The suggestions I have to make for relief work in the city are practically all labor, as I do not think that under present conditions any work should be undertaken that is not mostly all labor."

Whiffy Cox and Tommy Armour Tied For Lead In Canadian Open Golf

Mississauga Golf Club, Toronto, July 9.—Percy Allis, the British professional, who hails from Perth, went his record-smashing competitors one better and took undisputed leadership with a great round of 67 in the first eighteen-hole round of the Canadian open golf championship to-day.

Mississauga Golf Club, Toronto, Ont., July 9.—Whiffy Cox, Brooklyn, N.Y., set a blazing pace over the Mississauga course this afternoon to return a round of 68, four under par, and tie with Tommy Armour, defending champion, for leadership in the first round of the Canadian open golf championship.

Armour's 68 had stood up for several hours when Cox started the large gallery by his brilliant display.

The late scores turned the first round into an exciting scramble. Johnny Farrell, New York, barely failed to make it a three-cornered tie, finish-

TARIFF BOARD BILL IS GIVEN THIRD READING

Commons Votes on It After Division on King Amendment For Wider Range

Liberal Leader Scores Guthrie For Attitude Now in Contrast With 1912

Ottawa, July 9.—The government bill creating a tariff board was given third reading in the Commons this afternoon.

The vote came after an amendment moved by Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King had been the subject of a division for the amendment 81 and against it 85.

As soon as the amendment had been declared lost by 34, Hon. Ernest Lacombe, former Liberal Minister of Justice, moved for a six-months' halt for the bill. This action was declared lost without a registered vote.

The bill then received third reading. Mr. King's final effort to change the principle of the government bill came as a climax to three days of debate.

The Liberal leader proposed the bill be referred back to committee to consider adding that any company or individual who considered actual or projected tariff changes would affect his business adversely, might have the right to present his case before the board. As the bill stood, only cases referred to the board by the Minister of Finance would receive consideration.

Going back to 1912, Mr. King read a speech delivered by Hon. Hugh Guthrie, present Minister of Justice, but at that time a member of the Liberal opposition. A similar bill then was before the House and Mr. Guthrie protested against the lack of initiative power of the board and against the fact that only cases referred to it by the Minister of Finance might be considered.

The board, Mr. Guthrie was quoted as saying, was not independent, and it should report to Parliament, not the Minister of Finance.

H. W. "Bunny" Austin defeated Rudolf Mnisek, Czechoslovakia's leading player, 3-6, 6-2, 6-3, 6-2, and Fred Perry won the second match from Odelius Hecht, 6-1, 6-6, 6-3.

Ottawa, July 9.—As soon as the business of the House is disposed of the government will bring in its measure designed for the relief of unemployment. Premier Bennett so informed J. S. Woodsworth, Labor, Winnipeg North Centre, in the Commons this afternoon.

Replying later to a question from Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, the Prime Minister said the House would have every opportunity to discuss the matter.

Law Observed In Latest Vancouver Walkathon Wedding

Ceremony Calls for No Action From Attorney-General's Department, Mr. Pooley Believes as Reports Indicate Promoters Heeded Warnings of Prosecution and Suspension of Minister's License Following Previous Ceremony Monday

The latest walkathon wedding performed in Vancouver yesterday evening appeared to have conformed with the B.C. Marriage Act, and would not call for action from the Attorney-General's Department, Hon. R. H. Pooley stated this morning.

As a result of a walkathon wedding performed in Vancouver the license of Rev. Otto B. Karlstrum, pastor of the First Swedish Lutheran Church, was suspended.

Walkathon promoters who had billed a wedding of one of the contestants who had been walking 800 hours to take place at Athletic Park in Vancouver yesterday evening, changed their plans and the ceremony was performed to conform with the Marriage Act. Instead of the scheduled ceremony in the park the walk, Bud Ferguson, of Vancouver, was married to Daisy McLaughlin, a Vancouver waitress, who is not taking part in the contest.

The Coitell Hall, Rev. Robertson Orr performed the ceremony. No commercial attraction would be permitted, the minister performing such a marriage would lose his license and the promoters would be prosecuted.

"From the report I have received from the Chief of Police of Vancouver everything appears to have been in order in last night's ceremony," the Attorney-General said this morning.

The party adjourned to the Coitell Hall, which is a public place in which a wedding ceremony can be performed in the same way as a home with the doors open is a public place during the performance of a wedding ceremony.

No charge was made for admission. There was a crowd of about a hundred persons and proper witnesses. The law appears to have been observed and no action is called for from the Attorney-General's Department.

NOT RECOGNIZED
The Vancouver Arena Monday, Florence Bassett, Tacoma, and Earl Hartley of Olympia, who were both taking part in a walkathon, were the contracting parties in a wedding ceremony performed by Rev. Otto B. Karlstrum before 10,000 persons. The minister's license was suspended as a result of the ceremony and the legality of the ceremony is not recognized by the Attorney-General's Department on the grounds the ceremony was not performed in what is legally recognized as a public place. A charge for admission would render the arena from the category of a public place under the Marriage Act, it is claimed.

VICTORIA SHOT IS LEADING IN FEATURE EVENT

G.M.S. Wood, Garrison, Scores Possible in Lieutenant-Governor's Match

Heils Range, Saanich, July 9.—The outstanding event of the British Columbia Rifle Association's fifty-third annual meet at Heils Range was started this morning, when the province's crack marksmen fired seven shots at the 200-yard range in the first stage of the Lieutenant-Governor's match.

G.M.S.I. Wood, of the Garrison, turned in the only possible 35, and leads the large field by one point.

Bridge Span Is To Be Rebuilt At Vancouver

Expected Work at Second Narrows Structure Will Be Started Within Week

Vancouver, July 9.—Work on repairs to the Second Narrows Bridge here, which has been out of commission since last September, may be started within the next few days. This announcement follows the Vancouver Harbor Board's approval of the Burrard Inlet Tunnel & Bridge Company's request for a loan of $200,000.

The Harbor Board has forwarded the request to Ottawa, and it is expected an order-in-council authorizing the loan will be passed within the next few days. As soon as it is issued, work will be started, the contract for construction of a new span already having been awarded to the Dominion Bridge Company. The project will require three months to complete.

Terms and conditions of the $200,000 loan were the subject of discussion between the directors of the bridge company and members of the Harbor Board, but details have not been divulged.

VERNON HEARS OF STAKING OF GOLD CLAIMS AT SUGAR LAKE

Solomon, Alaska, July 9.—The projected Seattle-Tokio flight of Reg. L. Robbins and Harold S. Jones, Texas aviators, ended here at 3:50 a.m. (6:50 a.m. Victoria time) when unfavorable weather forced the plane down, unable to make a final refueling contact for the long dash.

Bumpy weather had made it impossible for the two planes to establish contact long enough to transfer enough gasoline to the tanks of the monoplanes. The fliers said, "The tri-motored refueling plane landed soon after the Fort Worth had come down."

The fliers were convinced the weather prospect ahead on the hazardous route over Bering Sea to Tokyo was bad and for that reason gave up the fight.

When they left Seattle at 3:57 a.m. yesterday, Robbins and Jones hoped to win a $25,000 prize offered by a Japanese newspaper for the first non-stop flight across the Pacific.

Robbins and Jones set a new speed record between Seattle and Fairbanks, arriving there at 9:33 yesterday evening. Pacific standard (Victoria) time, LACK OF RADIO BLAMED Seattle, July 9.—Reg. L. Robbins and H. S. Jones, Texas aviators, who gave up their Seattle-Tokio flight at Solomon Beach, Alaska, early today, would have had the assistance of a strong tail wind down the Siberian coast had they been able to continue, weather reports here indicated.

Leut. V. O. Clapp, weather observer at the Sand Point Naval Air Station, said that although clouds were low in the area immediately around Nome, the fliers could have seen clear weather 100 miles farther along their course.

Observers here were of the opinion the Texas fliers were unaware of the good weather ahead as their plane carried no radio.

SENATE DEBATE ON BELCOURT LEADS TO VOTE

Members Decide By Majority For General Conduct Committee

Ottawa, July 9.—By a vote of thirty-two to twenty-seven, the Senate yesterday rejected the proposal to have a committee investigate the position of Senator N. A. Belcourt in connection with his acting for the publishers of the magazine Canada of London, Eng., in securing a contract with government departments. The contract provided that the departments should buy a certain number of copies of the publication.

The motion to have a Senate committee investigate the case had been moved by Senator Rufus Pope, Conservative, Quebec. Senator Belcourt, Liberal, Quebec, moved an amendment that the committee, instead of investigating this particular case, investigate the broad question as to whether the Senate should not adopt a rule defining just what a senator's privilege was in acting for any outside client in dealings with the government. The amendment carried by 32 to 27.

On the division all the Liberals present voted for the amendment except Senator J. H. Levesque, who voted against. All the Conservatives present voted against it except Senator P. Poirier, who supported the amendment.

According to the submissions and statements to the Senate, Senator Belcourt was communicated with by publishers of Canada, asking him to secure for them subscriptions with government departments for some 3,300 copies of the publication. He was to receive a fee of $5,000 and when the departments decided to only take slightly over 2,000 subscriptions the company refused to pay the full $5,000. It paid $1,000 and Senator Belcourt sued the company for the balance. He got a judgment for his claim.

Subsequently the point was raised in the Senate whether Senator Belcourt had contravened the Independence Act. He made a statement in the Senate on June 16 and then given judgment.

Senator Pope moved the motion, to which Senator Belcourt, seconded by Rt. Hon. George F. Graham, moved the amendment which supplanted Senator Pope's motion. The amendment

NEW ROADS IN ONTARIO URGED

Canadian Press

North Bay, Ont., July 9.—Recommendation that a road be built from Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., through White River, to Nipigon, and that a connecting road link the existing highway at Hearst with the new road through Hornepayne, at White River, was passed yesterday evening at the conference of northern Ontario municipalities.

The resolution was moved by James Lyons, Sault Ste. Marie, former Minister of Lands and Forests of Ontario, and C. E. King of Port Arthur.

The resolution also asks for a road into Chapleau from the Transcanada Highway. It was passed almost unanimously.

A committee with James Lyons as chairman, was appointed to meet Premier Henry of Ontario as soon as possible to lay the resolution before him and press for an early start on construction work.

CITY SETTLES DAMAGE CLAIMS

Vancouver Pays Out $34,500 For Georgia Viaduct Accident

Vancouver, July 9.—Following settlements out of court, notices of discontinuance have been filed in cases pending against the city of Vancouver by four Georgia Viaduct claimants.

As announced on June 20 the city has paid Mrs. Margaret Ann Macdonald $5,000 for the death of her daughter, Jean Fraser Macdonald, and has paid the same amount to Nell Macfar, 4296 Sophia Street, for the death of her son, Angus Macfar.

Settlement of a claim by Berrie J. Forester for injuries has been made by paying him $3,500.

The fourth case in which settlement was effected was that of Alfred George Paul Reynolds, who receives $1,000 for the death of his wife, Frances Lila Paul Reynolds.

Including the $20,000 verdict, awarded the widow and children of Samuel Ernest Burchill, taxi driver, the city has incurred a liability for $34,500 damages to date in connection with the Georgia Viaduct accident, which took a toll of four lives.

There is also pending a claim against the city by Isabelle Margaret Phyllis and her husband, for injuries received by Mrs. Phyllis through the crash.

Stalin Calls For Big Speeding Up Of Soviet Coal Output

Moscow, July 9.—The government is moving to put into effect the new industrial policy enunciated by Joseph Stalin by calling for an immediate improvement in the coal industry.

This phase of industrialization has fallen considerably short of the Five-Year Plan and has contributed difficulties to transportation and other lines depending on coal for fuel.

The appeal issued yesterday calls attention to lagging production in the Don Basin of South Russia, the nation's chief source of coal.

It asks Communist Party members, officials of the coal trust, workers and Young Communists to direct all their energies to the development of the industry to meet increasing demands for more coal from that section. Mismanagement, carelessness and the improper organization of labor on the part of those immediately concerned with the Don Basin output are blamed for the unsatisfactory results shown during the first six months of this year.

Introduction of more machinery, lack of which is said partly to have hindered the output, the development of more skilled workers, the adoption of a piece-work wage system by November 1, improvement in living conditions and the halting of a large labor turnover in the mines are the chief remedies outlined.

Senator Dandurand Portrait Presented To Federal Government

Ottawa, July 9.—In a ceremony attended by members of the government and the opposition, a portrait of Senator Raoul Dandurand was presented yesterday evening to the government of Canada. The portrait is to mark the participation of this country in the work of the League of Nations. Senator Dandurand was a delegate to the League in 1924, president of the League Assembly in 1925 and for some time thereafter a member of the Council.

WITHERITE FIND MADE IN ALASKA

Associated Press

Juneau, Alaska, July 9.—The discovery of "witherite" or barium carbonate, reported found at only two other places on the North American continent, is announced by E. D. Stewart, supervising mining engineer for the territory.

The find was made on Kulu Island, in Frederick Sound, by George Comstock, an old-time prospector. Comstock has located claims at the site.

In the form of pebbles on the beach, the mineral was found, between two and three tons of it. Because of its weight, the original deposit was believed to be nearby.

It has been found only at Lexington, Kentucky, and in Ontario, Canada, said.

AMPLE CAPITAL AVAILABLE FOR TRADE REVIVAL

Peace and Stability Must Come Before Refinancing
Operations, Bank Holds

New York, July 9.—An abundance of capital available to finance a revival of business over the world exists, but there must be confidence in the maintenance of peace and normal financial relations between countries in order that it may flow freely from the centres where it tends to accumulate in idleness to the places and employment in which it is needed, the monthly bulletin of the National City Bank said today.

The one great problem in which all countries are now most concerned is that of restoring prosperity, continues the bulletin, pointing out that the way to prosperity lies through normal business relations and that the world needs a respite from uncertainties and alarms.

"It may be said that the magnitude and importance of the payments under consideration are exaggerated," the review continued, "but this is most true in the sense that their value to the recipient countries is exaggerated in proportion to what they are costing in trade confusion, political agitation, financial distrust and the threat of social disorder."

CREDIT CALLED VITAL

"Credit is a vital factor in modern business, and in international relations it is particularly sensitive to political agitation."

"One need only reflect upon the consequences of having central Europe relapse to the state of monetary disorder which existed in the years following the war to be impressed with the importance of safeguarding the situation," is the warning sounded by the bulletin, which added:

"The President is acting upon the conviction that it is easier to maintain a state of social and financial order than to reconstruct one after it has broken down."

RECOVERY FUNDAMENTAL

"It was regarded as fundamental to the recovery of Europe, and it is upon this view of international relations that President Hoover has made his proposal of a moratorium, affecting only obligations between governments. It is a policy of conciliation, looking to good understanding and co-operation for the re-establishment of world prosperity. It has been hailed in all countries with expressions of relief and approval, which signify confidence that negotiations, having been begun, will be carried to success."

"In view of this support, there is reason to believe that if one year is not time enough to allow industry and trade to reach a normal status, or a final conclusion to be reached regarding settlements, the purpose which has prompted the one-year moratorium will dictate the action then to be taken."

HOLD NEW YORK OIL MAGNATE ON FRAUD CHARGE

New York, July 9.—Silas W. Newton, wealthy oil man and amateur golfer, was arrested yesterday in the office of the Deputy Attorney-General on a charge of defrauding Hugo E. Distelhurst, a seventy-four-year-old New Jersey man, of his life savings of $25,000 in a stock deal.

Efforts will be made to extradite Newton to New Jersey. He was locked up at police headquarters. Police said Distelhurst told him he had lost about $100,000 in another stock transaction about a year ago. Mrs. Newton is the former Nan O'Reilly, newspaper gold writer, who at the same time of her marriage in November, 1930, was said to be independently wealthy as an heiress to a vast estate.

Newton took his arrest lightly, denied the charges and told detectives that if the complainant thought "there was anything wrong," he should have called at his office.

FATHER-IN-LAW IS HELD AFTER MAN'S DEATH

Calgary, July 9.—Clifford Kimmett, forty-year-old farmer of the Strathmore district, was shot and killed late yesterday afternoon and his father-in-law, Henry S. Dugan, sixty-five years old, was taken into custody charged with murder.

Enmity between the two men, extending over several years, was given by police as the cause of the shooting. Dugan, police said, informed the Strathmore detachment of this after the shooting, saying he had killed his son-in-law.

The shooting took place on the Dugan farm, where Kimmett had gone to assist Dugan with the farm chores. The two men were alone at the time. Kimmett is survived by a widow and four children. An inquest was called at Strathmore to-day.

PENITENTIARY COMPLAINTS ARE INVESTIGATED

Canadian Press
Ottawa, July 9.—Complaints in connection with the penitentiary at New Westminster had reached the government and were being considered by the Department of Justice, Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice, told the Commons yesterday evening. No inquiry, however, had been started and no commissioner appointed.

The question was raised by Thomas Reid, Liberal, New Westminster, who said it was reported an inquiry was to be made. Five men had been dismissed in 1926. He believed they had been dismissed unjustly after ten to twenty years' service, and they were denied a hearing. He thought an inquiry should be made and that its scope should be as wide as possible, and it should go into the hours the men were required to work.

SECRETARY SUES MILLIONAIRE

Woman Awarded $10,000 in $500,000 Breach of Promise Case

Los Angeles, July 9.—A jury, including eight women, awarded Miss Martha Marie Gullickson, thirty-four, damages of $10,000 yesterday evening in her $500,000 breach of promise suit against Albert Fuchs, sixty-seven, millionaire art collector of Santa Monica, whom she served as secretary in Chicago. Miss Gullickson testified in the trial that she came to California to marry Fuchs after he had written her ardent love letters. She said that after she had intended to wed, but that after he had stayed three days at his home, he refused to go through with the ceremony. "She didn't take exercise and didn't like my birds," Fuchs testified in telling of her visit. He also declared that she refused to enter a pre-nuptial agreement whereby he sought to protect the bulk of his estate for his son. "She wanted it all," he testified.

YOUR BABY and MINE

for MOTHERS AND FATHERS

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

SEVEN MONTHS' OLD BABY SHOULD BE SLEEPING ALL NIGHT
Night feedings are very rapidly dropped by the baby whose nutritional needs are well supplied in daytime. Some times, a tendency in this direction may be strengthened by offering a bottle of cool water when baby wakes for the regular nursing. To turn the baby over, making him comfortable and dry without arousing him completely from his sleepy state, is often enough to send him off for another five or six-hour stretch. At any time, it is always pretty conclusive that the baby who has been sleeping all night, but suddenly begins to demand food, needs an improvement in his daytime diet.

NOT GAINING PROPERLY
Here is a seven-months-old nursing baby who is waking at night to be nursed. Mrs. G. M. S.'s baby is not gaining as she should. Her weight at seven months is only fifteen and one-half pounds. "My main question is, shall I nurse the baby at night?" asks the mother. "Lately she has been waking at night, and at first just a drink of water would quiet her. Now she isn't satisfied with a nursing. She gets her cereal twice a day, and is nursed four times. She gets tomato juice daily. She nurses from eight to ten minutes, no more. I seem to have enough. Surely, though, if the quality were all it should be, she wouldn't need to nurse at night."

"My husband thinks she may be teething. Her gums are not swollen, and yet she acts as if they bother her. Lately her stools have been more frequent and are light and gray. Does cold pump water hurt the baby? I sometimes feed her mashed potato thinned with milk. Is that all right?" BEGIN COMPLEMENTARY FEEDINGS
Start to wean the baby as soon as the loose stools are at an end. Use either a complementary feeding directly after a regular nursing or substitute one bottle feeding for one nursing. The first method is preferable in hot weather, so that the breasts may be kept active until September, meanwhile furnishing baby sufficient nourishment to improve the weight. The baby should be teething, but there need be no special upset, because of that, though the leaves I have sent you, in the stamped, self-addressed envelope you enclosed, cover the details of complementary feedings and additional feedings the first year.

KING AND QUEEN HOLD RECEPTION AT HOLYROOD

Brilliant Scene at Scottish Palace Yesterday; Highland
Garb Picturesque Note

Edinburgh, Scotland, July 9.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Old Holyrood Palace has many a sinister page of history associated with royalty, but the record of the present visit of the King and Queen contains nothing that is not of a joyful character. Yesterday afternoon the King, in the uniform of a colonel-in-chief of the Scots Guards, sat on a throne of carved oak during a brilliant reception, by his side was Queen Mary in the uniform of a colonel-in-chief of the Scots Guards, over which she wore the blue ribbon of the Order of the Garter.

ROYAL ARCHERS BODYGUARD
Names that might have been taken from the roll of battle on Flodden Field rang through the dark oak-paneled room as Lord Hampden announced the guests. The throne room was a wonderful medley of color as men wearing the Highland garb of their ancestors moved among others wearing the uniforms of the navy, army and air force. The Royal Company of Archers, who form the King's bodyguard in Scotland, attended in their uniforms of green and gold, each carrying a ceremonial bow.

The ladies, of course, made their own special contribution to the color scheme. Although it was an afternoon court, no trains or plumes were worn and the feminine garb indeed was very like the fashionable array of Ascot.

TO OPEN NEW DOCKS
The programme for their Majesties' visit has been arranged so as to leave them time for informal excursions and the Queen has been able to do a considerable amount of shopping in Edinburgh. Their Majesties, accompanied by the Duke and Duchess of York, paid a visit to the ancient Norman church at Dalmeny, which has been restored by patient villagers working in their own time over a period of several years.

To-morrow the King and Queen will board a steamer to open the great new docks at Shidehall, Glasgow. The Queen will be presented with a wine jug, once the property of George III, dated 1764. Carrying the jug filled with wine to the dockside she will pour the contents into the water, naming the dock. But the name will not be divulged until Queen Mary herself announces it.

Two Toronto Men Stage Fight
Over Joint Gas Bill

Toronto, July 9.—Trouble begins when men stay at home and women go out and do all the bread-winning. The truth of this was illustrated here yesterday.

John Yaborsky and Steve Swybyrus live with their wives in a Berkeley Street house. Both are out of work. Mrs. Yaborsky and Mrs. Swybyrus have jobs, and their husbands stick around the house and get on each other's nerves.

To-day Swybyrus was pressing his pants in the kitchen. He used the gas stove to heat the iron. The two families had disputed the amount of the gas bill recently, neighbors said, finally agreeing to pay half each. Yaborsky decided his neighbor was using too much gas and threw the ironing board into the back yard. Swybyrus saw his pants on the kitchen floor, grabbed a hammer, and made for Yaborsky. The latter was caught over the head, police said, with a heavy weapon.

The wives returned home from work and found their husbands both absent, one in hospital and one in jail, charged with wounding. They linked arms and went to a movie.

Pimples Burned Terribly. Face Disfigured. Healed by Cuticura.

"For three years I was troubled with pimples. When they started they were quite hard and tiny but grew larger and were red. Later they festered and were very sore. The pimples burned terribly when I washed them, and my face was badly disfigured. I was at a loss to know the cause of them."

"I tried one remedy after another but none of them had any effect. A friend advised Cuticura Soap and Ointment so I sent for a free sample of each. I purchased more and in two months I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Agatha Westall, 129 Maynard St., Halifax, N. S., Sept. 4, 1930.

LITTLE GIRL IS FIRE HEROINE

Seattle Child Leads Grandmother and Blind Uncle From Building

Seattle, July 9.—A freckle-faced, red-headed five-year-old girl to-day was credited with saving the lives of twenty persons, including her aged, crippled grandmother and a blind uncle, when she led them from a burning building.

Little Mary Jane Burke screamed when she saw flames on the roof of her home. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Burke, and her three-year-old brother rushed to the street and fifteen Japanese in the church escaped.

Missing her grandmother, Mrs. Jane Burke, seventy-two, the child went back into the burning house and assisted the elderly woman down the steep steps. Half way down, the grandmother remembered the blind uncle and refused to go farther until he was by her side.

Smoke was curling down the stairway as the child led the two out of the house to the street.

"Bullet Joe" Simpson Ends His Active Hockey Career

Former Member of Edmonton Eskimos Will Manage New Haven Club

Boston Braves Winning Ball Games With Rookies and Cast-offs

Left-handed Pitchers Have Been Performing Miracles for Club

ANOTHER of the old veterans has passed from the hockey wars, as far as active play is concerned, in the person of "Bullet Joe" Simpson, who has been appointed manager of the New Haven Eagles. Joe was one of the most spectacular players in the game a few years ago. He was a great amateur player. He was a member of the first Battalion team which won the Allan Cup in 1915. He was overseas for four years and on his return turned pro with Edmonton, where his corkscrew rushes earned him the name of "Bullet Joe."

Eastern hockey fans never saw Simpson at his best. In 1923 he was as great a player as one could wish to see in action, a beautiful skater who was as great an idol all over the prairies as Moten is in the east. Victoria fans will remember him well as he played here many times as a member of the Edmonton Eskimos. He was somewhat of a veteran when he hit New York but he became a great favorite, although he had slowed up a lot.

Simpson should make good in a managerial role as he has had considerable experience. His promotion means that in all probability Billy Burch will move back on the defence for the New York Americans and Manager Gerard will try to get another forward to fit in with Himes at centre. Simpson in discussing his hockey career wound up with: "Eddie Gerard is the finest manager I ever played under. He was one of the greatest players I ever saw in the game and he knows all there is to know about the game and the way he handles men is a revelation."

If you enjoy mystery stories follow the Boston Braves in the National League.

Here is a ball team with verdant rookies and weary castoffs at important positions, a team that is batting no better than seventh among National League clubs and fielding around fifth. Yet the club has knocked off those chesty St. Louis Cardinals six times this season out of ten games.

"You can say," Bill McKeechnie, cast-off manager, on his roster, he would "go somewhere up." It appears he has a few. One of them is Wally Berger, of whom the Chicago Cubs thought so little as to send him to the village in exchange for one Lester Bell. Bill Wrigley never has been able to laugh that one off.

Another is Red Worthington. He is just one of those former Cardinal chain store fellows. Judge Fuchs, prowling in Rochester one dark night, liked the way Red combed his hair and invited him to Boston. He has been hitting only about .332 and is much better than your Aunt Emma getting around to places in the outfield.

Number three is Wes Schulmerich. Recent averages showed him clouting .300. Wrigley is wondering how Wes was pried away from the Cub chateau at Los Angeles.

Boston's pitchers, especially the left-handers, have been performing amazing stunts. Castoff Tom Zachary is leading the parade. In his first ten games he won seven. In Southpaw Ed Brandt's first thirteen games he won nine. Seibold has shown a return to effectiveness. Ben Cantwell is still improving. Bruce Cunningham and Willie Sherdel go for what is left.

Boston's fifth place fielding average must be a lie. The Braves have what is probably the smoothest second base combination in the game to-day, Maranville and Maguire.

The little Rabbit is especially valuable at starting his double killings. He scoops a ball with hands that are sure, and tall Maguire can whip it on a line over the runner's head. You have to have double plays to win ball games.

Maybe that furnishes a clue to the mystery of how the Braves win ball games.

Midget Wolgast Sued For $50,000

Philadelphia, July 9.—Midget Wolgast, who Friday night will defend his flyweight boxing title in New York against Ruby Bradley, Holyoke, Mass. negro, yesterday was sued for $50,000 damages by Captain Manana, of Atlantic City, and his daughter, Rose, nineteen.

The suit charged Wolgast and two companions lured the girl to their apartment and subjected her to brutal treatment.

Wolgast was arrested Saturday on Miss Manana's charge. James Farina, twenty-five, and Louis Piroli, twenty-three, were arrested with Wolgast, and were named co-defendants in the damage suit filed to-day.

Classiest List of Players in History of Event Will Open Title Chase Over Mississauga Club Course at Toronto; Johnny Farrell, Leo Diegel, Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen and Horton Smith Head U.S. Contingent; George Von Elm Withdraws at Last Minute; British Players Worried Over Heat

Mississauga Golf Club, Toronto, July 9.—They're off! A rampaging herd of thoroughbred golfers, all imbued with hopes of success, started off this morning on the first lap of the gruelling drive for the pot of gold and glory symbolized in the Canadian open championship.

The dew was still heavy on the grass on sporty Mississauga when the first pair of hopefuls, George Diegel of Brentwood, N.Y., and Norman Cumming, Toronto, teed off. They started out on their journey promptly at 8.30 a.m. (E.S.T.), but even at that hour there was a sparse gallery, which gradually increased in numbers and when Tommy Armour, the defending titleholder and British open champion, crashed out his first drive, he found quite a following trailing in his wake.

Mr. Caldwell is one of the Dominion's leading senior golfers and a former champion of that class.

GRANT STARS IN VICTORIA CRICKET WIN

Puts on 53 Not Out as Five C's Defeat Vancouver Oils in Tournament

Local Team Favored to Win Con Jones Trophy; Peers Gets Century For Auroras

Vancouver, July 9.—Victoria won an exciting game in the British Columbia cricket tourney yesterday by trouncing the Vancouver Oils by two wickets, and have now a clear lead in the race for the Con Jones Trophy, which they are favored to win. It was Grant's batting which brought victory, for the popular southpaw scored another fine innings of 53, not out, when runs were badly needed, and he had the satisfaction of driving in the winning run.

The Oils batted first, and excepting for another timely innings of 61 by Bullen and 41 by Giles, the remainder of the team failed to get going against Blass and Billings, and the side was all out for 153.

Victoria fared none too well at the opening, and had six wickets down for 80, when Darcus joined Grant. The Victoria skipper managed to stay in until another 40 had been added, and although his share was only eight, it was a valuable contribution. Bullen was out for four, fourteen runs being still needed with two wickets to fall.

Limmon held his bat straight and played Wood, who continued to score, and both staged some short runs. The tying run was made by Limmon on a four, and Grant immediately singled for the winning run, when the game ended.

VICTORIA GETS CENTURY
A brilliant not-out century of 103 by the veteran Peers, playing for Auroras against the Okanagan, featured the day's play, the former winning by 295 for five against 155.

WHEN STRIBLING HIT THE FLOOR IN THE FIFTEENTH ROUND

Joe Savoldi And Dr. Sarpolis End Bout in Basement

Los Angeles, July 9.—Joe Savoldi and Dr. Carl Sarpolis ended their wrestling bout yesterday evening in a draw in the basement of the Olympic Auditorium where they had fallen from the ring after a series of flying tackles.

Up to the time that the wrestlers hurried themselves out of the ring and fell down a flight of stairs leading into the arena, each had one fall. They were unable to scramble out of the cellar in the customary twenty seconds and so the bout was called a draw. The third fall had gone eight minutes and thirty-four seconds before the wrestlers took their basement dive. Neither was reported badly injured in the fall.

Tilden's Brilliant Play Features U.S. Pro Tennis Tourney

Veteran Star Gives Wonderful Exhibition of Fancy Strokes in Defeating James Burns; Vincent Richards Cuts Loose With Flashing Volleys to Win Over Allen Behr, 6-1, 6-0, 6-0; Howard Kinsey, Former Davis Cup Player, Uses Chop-stroke to Defeat Robert Murray, 6-1, 6-3, 6-4

Forest Hills, N.Y., July 9.—No breaks occurred in the seeded group as the lawn tennis professionals made their belated start in the fifth annual tournament for the championship of the United States on the turf of the West Side Tennis Club here yesterday. Vincent Richards, the defending titleholder, cut loose his fastest volleys to overwhelm Allen Behr, New York, 6-1, 6-0, 6-0.

Bill Tilden, making his first appearance in a professional tournament, Francis T. Hunter and Howard O. Kinsey, former Davis Cup stars, and the others of the selective list all came through with comparative ease. Albert Burke of France revealed the fluency of stroke which has made him a model on the European courts.

TILDEN'S BRILLIANT
Tilden's match provided a brief flash of brilliancy. In his happiest mood, Big Bill essayed all manner of fancy strokes against the veteran, James Burns. Tilden shot beautiful backhanders into the corners, or sent his parallel line drives skirting the court borders. During the lively encounter, Big Bill accounted for a total of nineteen placements, twenty outs and nineteen nets. Tilden met James J. Mitchell of Richmond, Va., for the place in the quarter-final to-day.

Albert Burke of France, transplanted from Ireland, downed Captain Valerian Yavorsky, formerly of the Russian Imperial Army, 6-1, 6-0, 6-0.

As a chop-stroke artist, Howard O. Kinsey proved that the baffling bound still is effective. The former Davis Cup player had little difficulty in mastering Robert K. Murray, Forest Hills, 6-1, 6-3, 6-4.

Young Ball Team Clouts Out Easy Victory in Twilight League

Rosebuds took a liking to the offerings of Ed Mills, Automotives' pitcher, in the twilight ball game played at the Songhees Reserve grounds yesterday evening and when finished they had clouted him for nine runs to win an unexpected victory over the Automotives. Tommy Musgrave, Bud hurler, held the car men down well, allowing them to get only two counters.

During the tussle, Walter Rabey, short stop for the Buds, contributed a homer to aid the team building up its score. He also shared batting honors with J. Walker, each getting two hits in three trips to the plate. Harry Pollard replaced Miles for the Automotives, but the game was too far gone to be able to check the Buds.

Stribling praised Schmeling's sportsmanship and courage of Referee George Blake for his action in stopping the fight fourteen seconds before the end of the last round.

"I could have stuck it out," Stribling said, "but I appreciate Blake's position. He did not wish to take chances of having me seriously hurt."

A formal dinner of welcome for Stribling is planned by the city of Macon on July 17.

FRECKLES

Tells How to Rid Your Complexion of These Ugly, Rusty-Brown Spots

If you freckle easily, you find these blemishes hard to remove, read what thousands of women do to fade out freckles and gain a beautiful complexion. They use Othine-double strength; so they no longer dread the sun and winds that cause fair-skinned women such annoyance at this time of year.

You, too, will find that after a few nights' use of this dainty white cream even the worst freckles are disappearing, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce jar of Othine is needed to clear away these ugly blotches and restore the natural beauty of your skin.

Be sure to ask for Othine-double strength at any drug or department store. Money back if it does not remove even the worst freckles and leave your complexion soft, clear and beautiful.

CONSTITUTIONAL TILT IN NEW SOUTH WALES

Governor Opposes Lang Ministry on Appointments to Second Chamber

Sydney, New South Wales, July 9.—The dispute between the Government of New South Wales and Sir Philip Game, Governor of the State, has spread to both Houses of the State Legislature.

The Legislative Assembly by a vote of fifty-one to thirty-one after an all-night sitting passed a motion declaring it was the bounden duty of the governor to accept and act on the advice of the ministers when such ministers obtained the confidence of the Legislative Assembly, and that he should particularly act on the advice that a sufficient number of persons nominated by the government should be summoned to the Legislative Council (Upper House) to ensure prompt passage of necessary financial and other matters. Sir Philip had consistently declined to approve the Premier's nominees to the Upper House.

SECOND MOTION

While Sir Philip, following a rider to the motion, was cabling it to the Secretary of State for Dominion Affairs at London, the Upper House took a hand in the matter. In order to counteract the motion passed by the Legislative Assembly, the Legislative Council adopted a motion endorsing its own rejection of the emergency income tax bill and asserting the right of the governor to exercise his discretion when he was asked to make appointments to the second chamber.

The Legislative Council's motion further declares the Upper House has the right and the duty to protect the people of New South Wales against "abuse of power," and the power to reject and amend measures not approved by the electors. It concludes with a request to the President of the Council to convey the resolution to the Governor for transmission to the Dominion Secretary in London.

Premier J. T. Lang came into power as head of a Labor ministry last October. Since then he has been handicapped in the attempted passage of a number of unusual measures by an opposition majority in the Upper House, and for many months has been endeavoring to get enough members appointed to the chamber to either give the government a majority or else vote the chamber out of existence.

The courts recently ruled abolition of the Upper House, however, was a matter for submission to the people by means of a referendum. Matters were brought to a head a few days ago when the Upper House threw out the drastic "emergency income tax bill." That would have imposed a special tax of five per cent on incomes of $20 a week, and a tax up to twenty-five per cent on incomes of $50 and over, to be used for relief of unemployment. Following its defeat the government is continuing the former unemployment tax of five per cent.

Unlike Canada, the state or provincial governors in Australia are appointed by the British Government, not by the federal government.

Air Vice-marshal Sir Philip W. Game was appointed governor of New South Wales in 1930.

BOARD FINANCES IN GOOD SHAPE

Finance Committee's Report Shows School Expenditures Within Estimates

With the school year terminated and more than half of the current year gone, the Victoria School Board's expenditures are well within estimates, according to the report of the finance committee presented at yesterday evening's meeting.

General expenditures, outside of salaries, show a reduction over last year of about $6,000 for the month's period the total for 1931 being $51,782, as compared with $57,380. The total estimate for the year in this section is $109,690.

Out of an appropriation of $513,820 for salaries, $310,119 has been spent for the period, which is three-fifths of the school year, the indication being that through practice of general economy the board will be well within its estimate at the end of the year.

As usual at the end of the school term, the board decided yesterday evening to call tenders for fuel supplies for the year and for educational supplies. Physics and chemistry supplies for the High School to the extent of $200 and books for the Victoria College library, costing $325, will also be purchased.

Recommendations for the preservation of fishing on Vancouver Island are made by the Duncan Board of Trade, in resolutions for the consideration of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island at the convention at Duncan on July 15 and 16.

It is suggested that the Dominion Government be asked to amend the Fishery Act to extend the prohibition of salmon fishing as bait on Vancouver Island to cover possession while going to and from the fishing grounds in an automobile or other vehicle.

A suggestion is also made that Premier Tolmie, Attorney-General Pooley and Hon. S. L. Howe be asked to urge the Canadian Government the necessity of restoring Vancouver Island streams with brown trout and Atlantic salmon, because once-famous streams have been depleted of sporting fish almost to the point of extinction, due mainly to the fact that native trout will not survive extensive fishing.

to say that the report and accompanying material presented to the writer by Mrs. Winch after her father's death was not in a satisfactory state for submission to the Lieutenant-Governor as a final document; nor does the writer believe that it was ever the intention of Mr. Gibbons that this document should have been so considered; but rather that it was a final draft to be subjected to any necessary alterations which might become apparent upon a thorough perusal and consideration.

That this report, when finally submitted, will be greatly changed from its original form as prepared by the late secretary, is quite likely. Whether it will recommend the introduction of a state health insurance scheme is dependent upon considerations as yet to be undertaken. On the other hand, the report, when made, will reflect in no small degree the able and erudite efforts of the deceased gentleman. It will, however, be neither a "Gibbons" report nor a "Davies" report, but the report of the members of the commission, each of whom has in his own particular sphere contributed valuable aid and devoted to the task painstaking application. Mrs. Winch's statement that her father worked hard and soul for state health insurance is very true, and the monument which he will leave behind him will be reflected not so much in the printed pages of any report, as in the appreciation of the individual members of the commission, whose work in this connection has been wonderfully aided by that strong facility for expert co-ordination for which the late Mr. Gibbons was justly renowned.

SEAMAN DROWNS IN HARBOR HERE

Veteran of Cableship Restorer's Crew Loses Life in Mishap

Falling from the gangplank of the ship after missing his footing, Harry Gillen, aged seventy, of the cableship Restorer, was drowned at the Outer Wharf late yesterday evening. The inquest probably will be held to-morrow morning at Sands Funeral Parlors.

Mr. Gillen, it is believed, struck his head in the fall from the ship's gangplank. He was an able seaman on the vessel.

Quartermaster W. B. Jones heard the noise of the fall and rushed to the ship's side. Able Seaman W. J. Francis was lowered into the water's edge and found the body floating at the ship's side.

A doctor was called and superintended artificial respiration for more than an hour before hope was given up and life pronounced extinct.

Sergeant Arthur Bishop and Detective Charles Cremer of the city force attended. After the coroner was notified the body was removed to Sands.

It is believed Mr. Gillen had a brother in Prince Edward Island.

NEW CURES FOR TUBERCULOSIS TOLD CLUBMEN

Modern Methods Have Made "T.B." Curable; No Need For Sanatorium Treatment

Dr. F. Kincaid Tells Rotarians of Scientific Means of Combating Disease

Modern methods of treating tuberculosis which have removed it from the list of incurable diseases, were outlined by Dr. F. Kincaid, specialist on the disease, in an address before the Rotary Club at its luncheon in the Empress Hotel to-day. The new forms of treatment were both cheaper, shorter and more effective than the old, he said.

"Community cannot afford slow, tedious blocking treatment in tuberculosis, which is definitely unsatisfactory," Dr. Kincaid said. "Neither can individuals afford to have their lives permanently wrecked by long training in idleness and uselessness. Tuberculosis is no longer a disease in which such expensive methods of dealing with it are either worth while or unavoidable."

"It is high time to give up pointing with pride to the vast amounts of money we spend and the wonderful buildings we have provided for the tuberculous. Mere expenditure of money, however large the amount, does not cure tuberculosis. Modern methods quite unlimited in number, are by no means the secrets of success in the cure and control of this disease."

OLD TREATMENT FUTURE

Up to fifty years ago, the speaker stated, tuberculosis of the lungs was treated by close confinement in a room, low dieting, and every circumstance calculated, as is now thought, to forward rapid progress of the disease. At that time it was considered a hopeless problem.

While the system of giving the patient lots of fresh air, exercise and a healthy diet had been propounded as early as 1840, it was not adopted until fifty years later, with the establishment of sanatorium treatment. The great improvement noted after the introduction of this method had tended to over-emphasize its effectiveness. Dr. Kincaid said, adding that it was realized now that benefits from this method were but partial and temporary.

AMENABLE TO CURE

"Tuberculosis is a disease which has definite tendency to cure itself if conditions are favorable, and the nature of the required conditions has been very exactly determined by the speaker. The speaker continued, "An environment and a regime of life best calculated to tone up the general health and build up the strongest possible resistance to the disease, are the most important. Treatment having this objective in view is indirect and not specific; that is to say it makes no direct attack against the local disease itself."

Dealing with the treatment of local conditions in the chest, Dr. Kincaid said a state of rest of the affected part and the removal of certain mechanical disabilities in the chest wall are the first steps in the treatment. When these are corrected, render complete healing of the lung a physical impossibility, were essential.

The speaker took exception to the general theory that rest in bed was necessary, saying that the breaking down of the patient's morale by the down of the patient's morale in local conditions to a large extent.

"TRAINING" PATIENTS

He favored "training" the patient, as one would an athlete, not rigorously, but with great caution. By this he meant that a person had to remain in bed for a period of approximately two weeks, as compared to the twenty months necessitated by the sanatorium system.

In a somewhat technical manner, he sketched the surgical requirements needed in another type of treatment, saying the X-ray had been of great value in this work.

By collapsing the part of the lung affected by letting air enter the lung through a hole made in the chest wall, a chance to rest. When the diseased area had been corrected, it was unnecessary and inadvisable for the patient to remain in the hospital, he added.

PARALYZE DIAPHRAGM

If paralyzing the diaphragm the size of the chest cavity could be reduced, to prevent undue strain on the lungs, he explained. By this he explained, saying that the actual operation was comparatively simple. When a permanent reduction was required, the patient was held in a close-fitting smaller through another surgical operation.

In moving a vote of thanks to the speaker, Dr. Kincaid said that while the views expressed by him were controversial, they were, nevertheless, enlightening to the public and contained the essence of the most modern methods of fighting tuberculosis.

ROTARY CLUBS ENJOY PICNIC AT KOKSILAH

Members of the Rotary Clubs of Victoria, Nanaimo and Duncan gathered yesterday afternoon at Koksilah, on the Cowichan River, for a picnic, and enjoyed to the full the fine weather.

The Duncan club was in charge of the outing and local and Nanaimo groups were royally entertained. The picnic was a success, and the two Up-Island clubs, and sent it down to defeat in a fine exhibition. Races were staged and furnished plenty of thrills for the spectators.

As the sun's heat increased, a large number of picnickers took to the river, where the waters of the Cowichan proved exceptionally refreshing.

SASKATCHEWAN CRICKETERS TO PLAY IN CITY

Decide to Send Team to Victoria For Inter-provincial Tournament

Assurance of Entry For Big Gathering Rounds Out Programme

Regina, Sask., July 9.—Saskatchewan will be definitely represented again in the annual western Canada cricket tournament which takes place in Victoria, August 3 to 8.

Dispersing rumors that the province would step down this year, some twenty local cricket enthusiasts assembled Wednesday night in the Great West Grain Company offices, where it was unanimously decided to recruit a team chiefly from Regina, Moosejaw and Saskatoon. A ways and means committee, consisting of W. C. Mills, S. G. Lewin, W. Cooke, C. G. Holmes and R. H. Foster was appointed to arrange the finances.

What chiefly prompted the decision to muster a Saskatchewan eleven again was the fact that the tournament at the coast would be thrown out of gear if only British Columbia, Alberta and Manitoba participated. It was felt that a team from Saskatchewan, with its enthusiastic as well as to the teams representing the other western provinces, to force one side to remain idle each year, while the other two were playing one match.

With four teams again assured there will be a complete programme of two matches every day of the week, with each team meeting the other three provinces twice.

REGULATIONS FOR THEATRES

Appeal Board Appears as Approving Film When Over-riding Censors

New regulations relating to censoring of films and fire precautions in theatres have been passed by the provincial government with the object of clarifying the Moving Picture Act and the Fire Marshal's Act.

The regulations are one that calls for a notice to be thrown on the scene that a picture is shown by permission of the appeal board when the picture has been refused the picture and an appeal has been taken against their ruling. Inspection fees for censoring are set out in the regulations and show that material classed as "B" films range from $3 a 1,000 feet, to $2 on prints. Silent films call for a fee of $1.50 a 1,000 feet inspected, while the same fee will be charged for a close-up of advance film bookings. Theatre licenses are provided, ranging from $300 for large establishments to $50 for limited capacity theatres, and their operation.

Tested Market In China For Canada Grain

Satisfied that Canadian grain will find a constantly increasing market in China, the Canadian government has sent a grain inspection party to the Orient.

Mr. Wolfe, Calgary manager for James Richardson & Sons Limited, returned yesterday evening by the liner Empress of Canada, after a tour of inspection of conditions pertaining to the marketing of grain in the Orient.

Mr. Wolfe went to China for the express purpose of gauging the possibilities of the Canadian grain business. He will make a report to his company on his findings.

PRIVATE FLYING IS POPULAR IN SINGAPORE AREA

Businessmen Are Flying Own Machines in Strait Settlements, Says Wigginton

Excellent System of Highways For Motoring in Federated Malay States

So popular has private flying become in the Strait Settlements that business men of Singapore are now piloting their own planes, according to J. E. M. Wigginton, sales manager for the Borneo Motors, who reached here yesterday evening by the Empress of Canada from the Far East.

The Singapore Aero Club now boasts over two hundred members, the majority of whom are credited with the requisite number of solo flying hours and carry a pilot's license.

Mr. Wigginton himself has done a great deal of seaplane flying. Flying is cheaper in the Strait Settlements than in many other parts of the globe, he says.

Flying aspirants get their wings there at $6 per hour as compared with a levy of two guineas an hour for air students in England.

The Singapore Aero Club entertained Miss Amy Johnson when she flew from London to Australia and loaned the aviatix a plane while her own was being repaired. Gipsy Moths are used exclusively in the development of private flying at Singapore.

Mr. Wigginton says there is a slump in the automobile business in the Strait Settlements and he is returning to England for a holiday.

GOEY DUCK CLUB CONVENES AT SIDNEY SPIT ON JULY 26

The annual convention of the Goey Duck Hunters' Association of Goey Duck Hunters will be held at Sidney Spit on July 26. The selection of the time and place of the convention was a matter of some discussion. It was one of the very few localities in the world in which goey ducks are found, and not until July 26 will tidal conditions permit the pursuit of this mammal.

Goey ducks have recently attracted considerable attention in the scientific world, and not long ago The Times published an interesting article on them from a celebrated scientific institution in Washington, D.C. As they are found in the wet sand and are possessed of unusual natural strength and little guile, their capture is not an easy thing.

Victoria's goey duck hunters are familiar with the habits and peculiarities of their quarry and usually capture a score or so in the two-hour hunt which follows the convention. The hunters are always successful by an open air banquet in which the goey duck, which is a rare table delicacy, figures.

JUDGE REFUSES RECEIVER FOR WALLOWMOT

Appointment of a receiver to take over the 300-acre Wallowmot Farm of W. J. Taylor, K.C., in North Saanich, has been refused by Judge J. A. Gaudette, who is sitting in court to-day.

Move for the receiver was made in court by D. S. Tait as counsel for Edward Ephraim Hodgson, holder of a judgment for $17,000 which the courts here awarded him against Mr. Taylor some years ago. Mr. Tait told the court there were many encumbrances against the Wallowmot Farm, including a mortgage for $12,000, a five-year lease of the land which has not yet expired, indebtedness to the government for income tax and mechanics' lien.

"The state of the title being so involved, Mr. Taylor, please, can't do anything," Mr. Tait continued. "The court must be persuaded there is some benefit to be derived by the appointment of a receiver, which would entail more expense than the land is worth. We want to make sure the land is preserved for the creditors," Mr. Tait replied.

"The land won't get away," said the justice. "It is so heavily loaded with mortgages, it can't get away." A. J. Patton was in court as counsel representing Mr. Taylor, but was called upon to begin a defence. The justice said the matter could be brought up again in two weeks, and adjourned the case.

CIVIL SERVANT SUED FOR DEBTS UNDER NEW LAW

What lawyers reported as the first garnishee in the Victoria courts against a civil servant, such action made possible by the recent amendment passed by the Provincial Legislature, was launched to-day before Judge Lampman by Carew Martin, as counsel for Charles W. Burr, Hillside Avenue drugist, against a civil servant in Vancouver. Mr. Martin explained the action against over bills which have been unpaid and a cheque that the bank would not honor.

F. R. Leighton appeared for the defence, opposing the action on technical grounds.

The judge reserved judgment until next week.

JUDGE REFUSES RECEIVER FOR WALLOWMOT

Appointment of a receiver to take over the 300-acre Wallowmot Farm of W. J. Taylor, K.C., in North Saanich, has been refused by Judge J. A. Gaudette, who is sitting in court to-day.

Move for the receiver was made in court by D. S. Tait as counsel for Edward Ephraim Hodgson, holder of a judgment for $17,000 which the courts here awarded him against Mr. Taylor some years ago. Mr. Tait told the court there were many encumbrances against the Wallowmot Farm, including a mortgage for $12,000, a five-year lease of the land which has not yet expired, indebtedness to the government for income tax and mechanics' lien.

"The state of the title being so involved, Mr. Taylor, please, can't do anything," Mr. Tait continued. "The court must be persuaded there is some benefit to be derived by the appointment of a receiver, which would entail more expense than the land is worth. We want to make sure the land is preserved for the creditors," Mr. Tait replied.

"The land won't get away," said the justice. "It is so heavily loaded with mortgages, it can't get away." A. J. Patton was in court as counsel representing Mr. Taylor, but was called upon to begin a defence. The justice said the matter could be brought up again in two weeks, and adjourned the case.

CIVIL SERVANT SUED FOR DEBTS UNDER NEW LAW

What lawyers reported as the first garnishee in the Victoria courts against a civil servant, such action made possible by the recent amendment passed by the Provincial Legislature, was launched to-day before Judge Lampman by Carew Martin, as counsel for Charles W. Burr, Hillside Avenue drugist, against a civil servant in Vancouver. Mr. Martin explained the action against over bills which have been unpaid and a cheque that the bank would not honor.

F. R. Leighton appeared for the defence, opposing the action on technical grounds.

The judge reserved judgment until next week.

Alberni, July 9.—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Skett of 1722 Lee Avenue, Victoria, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Grant, Grant Street, returned here among the tourists holidaying at Lock's Landing, Sproat Lake.

To-day's Grain Markets

WINNIPEG

(By Logan & Bryan)
 Winnipeg, July 9.—Wheat: Lacking any real support with practically no export business overnight or this morning, the wheat market continued its downward trend with prices getting about 1 cent under the close last night. Tired holders were liquidating on a small scale, while there was both selling and buying for Chicago account, which was probably more of an evening up affair than anything else, and had little effect.

Prices went through the daily bids for about half cent, which brought in a little support and checked further declines. There was no export business out of this market, but seaboard reported moderate sales, including a small scattered business in Manitoba. Cash wheat situation was very dull. Buyers were indifferent and not disposed to make purchases, while foreign importers are only buying on a hand-to-mouth basis. There was no pressure from large holders. No change in the flour situation. Liverpool July wheat closed at lowest point since the year 1924.

London cables stated that Russia had contracted for an additional 120,000 tons of vessel space. Total Russian charterings so far estimated at $30,000,000. A cable from Germany stated that the government demands 97 per cent of German grown wheat must be used for flour. Winnipeg futures closed 1/4 to 3/4 lower.

Coarse grains: There was some export inquiry for barley, but no sales were reported. Coarse grain markets were more or less quiet with prices holding fairly steady. Flax was sharply lower, closing 5 cents to 3/4 cents lower. Scattered liquidation was in evidence with demands poor.

Liverpool due 1/2 higher to 1/4 lower, based on Winnipeg.

Night Policeman Warns Mothers of Danger of Letting Daughters Run Loose

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a night policeman in a town of about 4,000 population and therefore see more of the doings of the younger people than the average person. Within a year there have been more than twenty-five forced marriages in this little town that were bound to result in misery because the young men had neither work nor money. I see every night young girls from twelve to fifteen years old out on the streets or out jorjoring with boys until as late as 12 or 1 o'clock. This includes most of the girls in the town of the above age. Is it possible that their mothers have no interest in them? Our Judge says: "When a mother allows her girls aged from twelve to sixteen to run around this way of nights unprotected, the mother should be spanked, and spanked hard."

Perhaps you can say something to these mothers to wake them up.

X. Y. Z.

Answer—Your Judge is too merciful. Something worse than spanking should be done to the mothers who let their little, silly, ignorant young girls run on the loose. It would take something with a hollering in it, as they used to say in the Gilbert and Sullivan opera, to make the punishment fit the crime.

But most of these mothers do get that punishment. They get it in the shame that comes to their daughters and in the knowledge of their wrecked lives. Lives that were wrecked before they even began to live. Lives that were wrecked through ignorance and because mothers failed to do their duty. That is the pity of it. The tragedy is so senseless, so unnecessary.

When a little young girl goes wrong, it is her mother's fault. It was because her mother was so careless and indifferent that she never took the trouble to inculcate good principles in her.

She never taught her to be modest. She never taught her to hold her honor above her life. She never taught her how to protect herself against herself and that her greatest foe and the one she must always be upon her guard against was herself. She never taught her that her own impulses and her desire to be loved and petted and admired by men would be an ever-present danger against which she must protect herself, and that as long as she was mistress of herself she need fear no man.

The mother is to blame when a little young girl strays off the straight and narrow path, because it was her business to protect her against the pitfalls that lie along the road of life. She knows its perils. She knows the places where the precipices are steepest. She knows where the hairpin turns are that it takes wisdom to negotiate safely. She knows where a girl is likely to skid over the brink unless she puts on the brakes. And if she has failed to keep her little girl from joyriding down this dangerous road before she even knows how to drive, the disaster that is bound to happen is on her own soul.

The mother is to blame if she fails to control her daughter and keep her from doing the things that she knows she should not do. There isn't a woman in the world so ignorant that she does not know that the period of adolescence is the most dangerous time in a girl's whole life, the time when she most needs a mother's hand upon her and a mother's wisdom to guide her. There is not a woman who does not know that at that time of her life every girl is boy mad, that she is intoxicated with her first awakening womanhood and that she can attract the opposite sex, and that through her sheer ignorance she will do things and take risks that the most hardened woman of the world will not do. There is not a woman who is not perfectly aware that no girl between twelve and seventeen is capable of taking care of herself. It would be impossible for her to have the knowledge and experience to do so.

And, knowing these things, how any mother can let her little adolescent daughter run the streets at nights with boys and go off with them in automobiles, passes all comprehension, and it passes all comprehension how they can stultify themselves into believing that their daughters are different from other people's daughters and that the terrible things that have happened to other girls are not going to happen to theirs.

Of course, the mothers will say in their own defence that they can't keep their children from doing what other people's children do, and that as long as Mamie Smith and Sadie Jones and Jenny Brown parade the streets at night and go jorjoring with boys they have to let their Annes and Lulus and Floras do the same. Well, then, why don't the mothers get together and organize a girls' protective union and keep all of the girls at home and see that they receive their boy friends there at proper hours and in a decent way? After all, the mothers of the country hold the real power in their hands and could rule their children if they had backbone enough to assert themselves and fight it out with headstrong youngsters.

When God sends a woman a girl baby He puts the greatest responsibility on earth into her hands, and we to her if she fails in her obligation. For it is the mother's hand that molds the child's character. It is the mother who makes the girl what she is and is answerable for the way she turns out.

In Lower California

What has been called "the richest and most unusual plant life on any desert, in the world" exists in the desert region of Lower California.

A field of "creeping devil" cactus.

Lower California (which belongs to Mexico) is a peninsula with a larger area than Ireland, but it has a population of only 65,000.

The "creeping devil" cactus is one of the strange plant forms which grow in this region. A field of this cactus looks like the home of a band of giant caterpillars, with heads reared.

The "elephant wood" tree is likewise found on this desert. At first glance a tree of this kind seems to be upside down, with the trunk under the earth and the roots exposed to the air. Close study, however, shows there is a central trunk a few feet high and about a foot thick. All around the trunk are thick twisted branches which in some cases dip until they touch the ground. During part of the year there are no leaves, but at other times we find small leaves growing from the branches. After the leaves are shed, the ends of the branches are covered with red flowers.

Another strange tree in Lower California has a trunk about thirty-five feet high. Its bark is of a yellowish color, and it has branches with hundreds of thorns. Yellow flowers grow at the ends of the branches.

Most of the people in Lower California are Indians or half-breeds. A priest in the district has told a story about an Indian who lost his mule. The Indian prayed that he might find it. The mule was located, but said to say it had broken a leg. To show his thanks, the Indian carved a tiny silver figure of a mule and took it to the chapel as an offering.

DEBT ACTIONS ARE DICTATED BY ECONOMICS

Hard Facts in Depression Often Overthrow Moral Or Ethical Policies

Trade Revival Only Thing That Will Stop Revision Or Cancellation

By RODNEY DUTCHER
(Copyright, 1931)

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Hard, economic facts again threaten to knock down the international set-up under which Germany pays reparations to the Allies and the Allies pay off their war debts to the United States. First such facts forced this country to write off large portions of the war debts through lowered interest rates. Then they deflated the gigantic reparations bill which the Allies charged against Germany. Next they forced the scrapping of the Dawes plan for German payments. And now, two years from its inception, they seriously threaten the Young reparations plan to the extent that President Hoover has called for a moratorium for a year on payments of both debts and reparations.

CALVIN COOLIDGE

"Well, they hired the money, didn't they?"

No one ever questioned the legality of the debt or reparation obligations. Moral or ethical arguments against collection were, in effect, laughed off. But in a world stricken by depression, the economic argument comes more insistently than ever to the fore. Abolition of slavery, prohibition and many wars have been brought about by pressure of the economic argument reinforcing the impotent moral argument. And there are many who believe that the pressure is directed toward eventual cancellation of reparations and debts.

TRADE REVIVAL ONLY HOPE

Congress is overwhelmingly opposed to debt cancellation, but the world now faces the likelihood of debt and reparation revision in the near future. The one thing that might head it off, it is felt here, would be a real world business boom which would put Germany back on her feet and make practicable a resumption of international payments.

Calvin Coolidge, in answer to pleas for debt cancellation, is said to have replied:

"Well, they hired the money, didn't they?"

CONSIDERABLE CANCELLATION ALREADY

But in defending the Italian debt settlement, which was regarded as cancellation to the extent of eighty per cent, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon said:

"The American producer needs these debt settlements. The entire foreign debt is not worth as much to the American people in dollars and cents as a prosperous Europe as a customer."

The debt-funding commission held that a foreign debtor "must be permitted to preserve and improve its economic position, to bring its budget into balance, and to place its finances and currency on a sound basis, and to maintain, and if possible to improve the standard of living of its citizens. No settlement which is oppressive and retards the recovery and development of the foreign debtor is to the best interest of the United States or of Europe."

The hardest economic facts now uppermost are that Germany can't pay her reparations bill installments now because she has been so hard hit, that the Allies are expected to pay, the United States only from what they get from Germany, that Germany has been borrowing abroad consistently in order to meet reparations payments, that the borrowing process eventually will end in default if continued, that her only other means of payment—because payments really have to be made in commodities—is in a huge export surplus, that creation of such an export surplus has become increasingly difficult because of foreign tariffs and competition, that Europe can pay us only in goods and that we hamper her in that, that declining commodity prices have increased the burden of both reparations and debt payments and eventually benefited the United States, and that debt payments to this country now amount only to six per cent of the treasury's ordinary receipts.

THEORY VS. PRACTICE

Few persons ever have taken seriously our government's official position that the debts bore no relation to the reparations payments. Under the Young plan $26,000,000,000 is to be collected from Germany and under the debt-funding agreements $20,000,000,000—the same money—will be paid to the United States. The Young plan also provides that when and if this country remits any of the debts, most of the benefit will be passed on to Germany.

Meanwhile, as an ethical point, it is sometimes argued that less than a third of Germany's payments for "reparations" actually is used for reparation of war damage to Allied countries. And that most of the reparations payments from Germany are passed right on to the United States, which refused to have anything to do with reparations at the peace conference.

THE MORAL ARGUMENT

Other moral arguments, subject to controversy and thus far quite ineffective, are that many post-war historians and other students have denied the charge of German war guilt on which reparations are based, that we were ready to turn over billions to the Allies whether it would ever be repaid or not and that the money lent should be regarded as our contribution to the war cause when our military unpreparedness made loans the only means by which we could leap quickly into the struggle.

Our future attitude toward debts and reparations is certain to be based on what our statesmen consider America's self-interest. The question of where our self-interest really lies, however, may prove a vexatious and controversial point for years to come.

B.C. EGG POOL SHIPPING 3,000 CASES TO LONDON

Experts Forecast Higher Prices as Surpluses Disappear Here

Vancouver, July 9.—A shipment of 3,000 cases of thirty dozen each of British Columbia eggs will be exported Saturday from New Westminster to London, England, by the British Columbia Egg Pool.

This is the first export shipment of eggs since 1920, and it will be the first of several shipments this year. Prices in the Old Country are said to be fair.

The shipment will relieve the local situation. August 1 the headquarters of the pool will be established in the Shelley Building, Vancouver. President C. F. Wallace, announced the head office in new Westminster being consolidated with the sales office in Vancouver.

The B.C. Egg Pool will then be direct agents for the Canadian Egg Pool. Mr. Wallace is optimistic for the industry this fall, predicting higher prices. One reason for this is that production in B.C. is 20 per cent less this year on account of the large number of poultry farmers who have gone out of business.
